International Coach Federation honors local life coach

The International Coach Federation (ICF) has awarded Barry Zweibel, of Northbrook, IL, the Professional Certified Coach (PCC) designation. This certification is awarded only to experienced coaches who have a substantive training and success in the coaching profession.

(PRWEB) July 1, 2004 -- The International Coach Federation (ICF) has awarded Barry Zweibel, of Northbrook, IL, the Professional Certified Coach (PCC) designation. This certification is awarded only to experienced coaches who have a substantive training and success in the coaching profession.

The ICF states that the PCC credential "is earned by demonstrating knowledge and proficient use of core coaching skills through a comprehensive application and exam process designed to ensure high standards for the coaching profession and the clients it serves."

As President of GottaGettaCoach! Incorporated, Zweibel is a certified business/personal life coach. Through a combination of coaching, performance consulting, and mentoring, Zweibel helps clients produce fulfilling results in their personal and professional lives. He has worked with clients in the United States, Canada, and across Europe.

The International Coach Federation is the largest non-profit professional association worldwide of personal and business coaches with more than 6000 members and over 145 chapters in 30 countries.

Barry Zweibel may be reached by email, at 847.291.9735 (phone), bz@ggci.com (email), or www.ggci.com (web).
